POLITICS.

F. W. Palmer, who was public printer under Harrison, has been given the same position by McKinley. Where is Senator Linney?

A joint resolution was introduced in Congress for the annexation of the Sandwich Islands to be known as the State of Hawaii.

Foraker and Hanna have buried the bloody hatchet and Damon and Pythias were not closer friends than these erstwhile political enemies appear to be.

Consul General Lee has been notified that his services will not be needed after April 15. It is understood that his successor will be on the ground at that time.

Speaker Reed is quoted as saying that he will not appoint the remaining House committees until the beginning of the regular session of Congress in December.

Chairman Chrisman has called the democratic committee to meet at Danville tomorrow to decide on the time and manner of selecting candidates for county offices.

First Assistant Postmaster General Heath says not another Kentucky appointment will be made through his department until a United States Senator has been elected. That's all right. We do not need 'em.

Jailor William H. Wilkerson attacked Attorney E. P. Farrell on the streets of Lexington and administered a black eye for supposed wrongs done him by Farrell in the late primary, in which Wilkerson was defeated.

This from the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune is decidedly cruel: "Many body wants to discover the whereabouts of the National democracy at this time, he had better buy an outfit suitable for deep sea soundings."

The Harrodsburg Sayings says Judge M. C. Sauley has filled the position of circuit judge ably and honestly and his career and character are too favorably known to his fellow citizens of Mercer to require any further comment from this source.

Mr. J. S. Owsley, Jr., says the Harrodsburg Sayings has made a most acceptable servant of the people in the position of Commonwealth's attorney and an endorsement of his course would be a merited compliment to a worthy and aspiring young man.

In the Fayette county primary Circuit Judge Watts Parker defeated George B. Kinkaid, N. J. Gentry defeated Billy Wilkerson for jailer; C. C. Chinn defeated Theo. Lewis for county clerk and Robert Baker was nominated for assessor over Samuel Scott. The candidates for the other county offices had no opposition.

The Dingley bill passed the House 235 to 121. One populist and five so-called democrats voted for it: Meyer, Broussard and Davey, of Louisiana, and Kleberg and Shelden, of Texas, and Populist Howard, of Alabama. Twenty-one populists, silverites and fusionists declined to vote at all. The bill is designed more for protection than revenue. It comprises of 162 pages.

Gov. Mount, of Indiana, will remove Dr. Thomas, superintendent of the Southern Asylum at Evansville, because of evidence that when returning from a State convention he "took no less than 12 drinks of whisky between Terre Haute and Evansville." He says that no man who drinks in that way shall reside in any Asylum for which he is responsible, and he is right.

The Louisville Commercial must admit, however, that they are masters of the situation, when it says: Gov. Bradley, commanding general, with Hon. Augustus Wilson chief of staff, and an assistant adjutant general, command an army of seven republican bolters. The strength of this army, as regards numbers, very accurately represents the amount of respect and confidence entertained for those gentlemen by the republicans of Kentucky.

Ex-chairman of the democratic State central committee Carroll: "I would not hesitate if a member of Congress to vote for a tariff on any article raised or produced in Kentucky or the South that could be benefited by protection. We are met by a condition that democrats who entertain the same views I do had no part in bringing about, and I am in favor of making the best of it. I see no sense or reason in adhering to party declarations that practical conditions have destroyed or made obsolete."

President McKinley said on the 4th of March: "The severest economy must be observed in all public expenditures, and extravagance stopped wherever it is found, and prevented wherever in the future it may be developed." Congress answered by passing in a few hours, without allowing debate, appropriation bills aggregating $75,000,000 which President Cleveland refused to sign on account of gross extravagance and corruption; and President McKinley signed them, showing that extravagance must be condoned in order to fool the people, and appropriation bills reeking with jobs must be passed in order to please the politicians.—Louisville Post.

LANCASTER.

Judge W. E. Walker, U. S. storekeeper, has been transferred from Henry Traylor's to the distillery at Silver Creek for this month.

Mr. William Shugars, father of W. K. Shugars, of McKinney, is a candidate for city judge, subject to the action of the republicans.

At this writing, April 1st, the fools are taking in the bait, hook and part of the line and most of the town is therefore in an uproar.

J. I. Hamilton has bought the B. K. Ball farm, three miles from town, on the Danville pike, containing 68 acres, for which he paid $1,200.

Miss Mae Ware, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. R. E. McRoberts, will return to her home in Hopkinsville Friday. Mrs. B. F. Hudson is very ill.

R. A. Stone's grocery and furniture store has been closed, to pay some city debts, which he was unable to meet on account of heavy losses incurred by the last fire in this city.

Willis Myers, aged 76, and Jane Adams, 67, two prominent colored people, who were lovers in ante-bellum days and who had never taken marriage vows, were made one flesh at the courthouse on Wednesday.

Miss Eliza Lusk is a candidate for school superintendent, subject to the action of the democratic party. She is highly competent and quite popular, being related to some of the best families in the county, and will be a formidable candidate.

Dr. J. B. Kinnaird has already placed 70 telephones, a larger number than is in use in much larger towns. But it must be remembered that our people talk more than other people—I mean, of course, that they are eminently and notoriously social.

A man here says that he will go to any one of the toll-gates that has been abandoned and collect toll from sunrise to sunset on all fair and bright days when there is to be no eclipse of the sun. He is a man of remarkable courage and an ex-Confederate soldier.

On Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. W. Leslie Herndon, son of Capt. William Herndon, and Miss Bettie Robinson, aged 18, daughter of J. C. Robinson, one of our most prominent merchants, were married, Rev. T. H. Campbell officiating. They are well connected, belonging to two of the most prominent families in the county.

Four more toll-gates have been destroyed in the neighborhood of Buena Vista and Bryantsville. Dire threats of violence by dynamiting and burning were made, which induced one of the keepers to lock up and abandon his premises. It is said that Charles Boulden, president of the Lancaster & Lexington road, received notice that he would be held personally responsible if more toll was collected. Similar notices were served on the gate keepers and the result is, one of the best roads in the county is now open. This means a reign of anarchy and a total surrender of every principle of law and good government. If this is permitted, the outlaws can regulate the price of all articles of merchandise and proper commercial relations will be wholly destroyed. It is yet hoped that the liberal rewards offered will bring the miscreants to justice.

MAX P. JONES.

Who will lecture at Walton's Opera House, at 2 P. M., April 5th, on "Get There and Stay There."

MATRIMONIAL.

Frank Oliver attempted suicide at Elkton, W. Va., because his wife danced with an old beau of hers.

W. P. Buchanan and Miss Sallie Hall, daughter of Milford Hall, were married at Milledgeville Tuesday. Each is 19 years old.

Lewis French and wife, of Indianapolis, celebrated the 68th anniversary of their marriage Tuesday. He is 93 and she 84. The old lady cooked the dinner herself while her husband cut the stove-wood and brought water.

Rev. Harvey Miller, of Bushtown, is assisting Rev. G. W. Holling in a meeting at the colored Baptist church here and already 13 are ready for the water," as Bro. Holling expresses it.

The Methodist meeting is now in its 10th week and some of the members have not missed a sermon. Rev. W. S. Grinstead now has the assistance of Rev. L. L. Pickett and the religious fervor is at white heat. There have been many confessions and sanctifications.

The Danville Advocate says that Judge Prescott has been notified by the State board of equalization that Boyle county's assessment will be raised 18 per cent. on town lots and 14 per cent. on land and personalty. Mr. W. G. Proctor and family will leave within the next 10 days for Idaho to reside permanently, while Mr. Proctor disposes of some important business engagements there.

At Brunswick, Ga., a one-armed and one-legged colored man bet 75 cents to 50 cents that he could swim the swollen Flint river. The stakes were held by a woman who, in giving an account of the affair, said: "I jes' turn de money over as soon as he jump in." The sequel proved her judgment to be correct.

The statement is made that the New York Journal and World spent $56,000 on the prize fight. The former gave Senator Ingalls $3,500 and the latter paid John L. Sullivan $3,000 to report it for them.

Orange blossoms and wedding belles were in order last Wednesday. Mr. Charles Spillman and Miss Lucille Joplin were married at the home of the bride's parents at 11 o'clock by Elder Farrea, of Lexington. The bride never looked more beautiful than on this her wedding day; attired in a blue gray cloth with hat to match. A number of her friends were present besides the following from a distance: Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Brooks, Paris, Messrs. Geo. and Will Spillman, Lancaster, Mrs. M. Thompson, Louisville, and Mrs. S. W. Whitehead, Virginia. About 10 couples attended the reception Tuesday evening. The happy couple left at once for their home at Logana, Jessamine county.

W. P. WALTON.

HUNTER'S goose is cooked. He has all along claimed that if he could have continuous balloting he would get there and in great shape. The opportunity was given him Tuesday, but after 13 ballots, he lost instead of gained and at the end was further from the prize than ever. Wednesday he claimed that he had a man or two up his sleeve and he was given another chance to make good his claim, but after five ballots his vote fell from 60 to 58 and again the body adjourned without electing a U. S. Senator. It becomes more and more apparent that Hunter can not be elected and as he has declared that he will fight it out on this line if it takes all summer, there will possibly be no election, unless some of his followers tire of the fruitless task and realize that the farce is costing the State $1,000 a day, and vote to elect a good man to the U. S. Senate. This no reasonable man can claim for Hunter, who is incapable of filling the position with credit to the State.

It is now said that 14 have already expressed a willingness to throw Hunter overboard and there are others who it is claimed will demand a new caucus after this week. Following is the latest from the seat of war:

FRANKFORT, April 1.—The joint assembly took three ballots to-day without a result being reached. The first ballot stood: Hunter 58, Blackburn 43, Davis 11, Boyle 7, Stone one. The 2d and 3rd were the same. Adjourned at 1:10 P. M. without an election until tomorrow.

THAT there is only a step from unrestrained lawlessness to anarchy is shown again in the action of the turnpike ridding liends in Mercer. They have threatened to blow up the homes of the president and directors of the Cornishville pike if more toll is collected and the scary crowd has ordered the collection stopped. A notice has also been served on a mill run by a corporation that flour must be sold at $2 per hundred and a number of tobacco beds belonging to wealthy farmers have been destroyed, with a notice left that no rich man shall be permitted to raise tobacco. There may be nothing in these threats and again there may be. The cowardly scamps have so far kept their carcasses out of jail and emboldened by their success they are anxious to do other and worse deeds. The lawless element seems to have been organized for devilment, and it is high time that the advocates of law and order were organizing to checkmate the rascals and to shoot down the enemies of society like dogs.

REV. G. W. BOLLING, the colored preacher-politician from Elizabethtown, showed us a letter the other day that he had written for the Courier-Journal, denouncing everybody and everything that stood in the way of Hunter's election and bawling the administration for not doing more for his race. He says that there are fewer Negroes in the public service now than under democratic rule, the only two that he knows of getting jobs, having been given the vice one of spittoon cleaners at Frankfort. Great dissatisfaction, he claims, exists among the colored voters, who are ripe now to leave forever the party that promises and never fulfills. If there is no improvement and soon Rev. Bolling says he will announce himself a candidate for governor in 1899 and bust the republican party to flinters. We should be glad to see him do it.

JUDGE J. R. JEWELL, who became famous by his remark, "Politics is Hell," has gone, let us hope, where the wicked cease from troubling and politics is never known. He died at Lexington where he was police judge. In many ways he is said to have been the most remarkable man that ever lived in Lexington. He had a wonderful influence over the late Gov. Blackburn, who at his suggestion, pardoned 105 convicts in one day. His popularity was wonderful and his elections were apparently accomplished with such ease that politics seemed otherwise than hell with him.

WE do not charge that the editor of the Harrodsburg Sayings is a sucker, but when he bites at such a bait as the "Ulster County Gazette" telling about the death of Washington, and publishes a whole page from it, he kinder gives himself away. A million or more of the original and only Ulster County Gazettes were printed by an enterprising firm and sold at the Philadelphia Centennial in 1876.

THE bill to take Pineville from the 4th and put it in the 5th class of cities was passed by the House. The people there are tired of paying taxes to support a system of government, which they can not afford, and if the Senate doesn't hurry up and pass the bill before the hogs root up the rest of the pavements, another bill to put it in the 6th class may be pushed.

LET justice be done though the heavens fall and the truth be told no matter who it helps or hurts. A dispatch in the Louisville Post says that Gen. Hardin's charges that Gov. Bradley said at Harrodsburg in February, 1895, that he was for free silver, and would make his campaign on that issue. The general gives Senator Branstetter and Judge Saulley as witnesses against the governor and in order to test the truth of the charge we sought Judge Saulley. We can testify that long before the convention that nominated him, Gov. Bradley declared himself unequivocally for the existing standard, which was and is gold. In response to questions Judge Saulley said with reference to the Harrodsburg conversation:

"Gov. Bradley was in Harrodsburg at the February term, 1895, of the Mercer circuit court. He and Mr. Branstetter were engaged on opposing sides of a criminal case. I had several conversations with Gov. Bradley on the financial question at that term of court. He did not in any of them say that he believed free silver was the proper theory of finance." As I remember the substance of his views as expressed then, it was that he was not as familiar with the subject as he should be; that he was then engaged in studying it, but that the inclination of his mind was toward a single gold standard. He did not, in my hearing, then or at any other time, utter a word which would lead to the conclusion that he was in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver."

SENATOR JAMES finds that joking is not what it is cracked up to be. He said the other day that Mr. Violett had promised to vote for Hunter and the remark got into the newspapers. It made Violett very angry and he started out to kill the doctor, but was sidetracked. They finally met and James was explaining that it was all a joke and that he had not said exactly what was charged to him any way. Sergeant-at-arms Tyler said he heard James say it, whereupon James called him a liar and Tyler struck him. Then James made a feint as if to get a pistol. Tyler went for his knife but unfortunately a good newspaper item was spoiled by bystanders.

A PENSIONER aged 55 at Louisville runaway with and married a girl of 15 Tuesday. He'll live to be about four score and then leave her a widow at 40, who will be good to draw a pension till she is 80. And so it goes, does the never ending and always increasing pension burden, for which neither this generation nor the next will see the last.

WE are indebted to Gov. McCreary for the first two volumes of the "Official Records of the Union and Confederate Navies in the War of the Rebellion," issued under the direction of the government. Each volume contains about 900 pages. Another volume is to follow and when complete the record will be a full and interesting one.

SENATOR LINNEY's desk was decorated with a huge bouquet the other morning, which had a card attached addressed "To the Old Hickory of Kentucky Republicans." Linney has developed a backbone as strong almost as that of democracy's idol and the whole State owes him a vote of thanks for refusing to foist Hunter on us.

IN order to scare off importers who are rushing goods to this country, the lower House of Congress, by a vote of 201 to 159 adopted an amendment to the tariff bill making it take effect April 1. As the Senate hasn't acted on the bill and may not pass it in its present shape, this retroactive feature will not cut much figure.

SPEAKER REED has had the Dingley bill pushed through the House with indecent haste, but it will strike a snag in the Senate, where it is hoped the iniquitous measure to levy unjust tribute from the people will be shelved for good and all.

THE Lexington Herald says that Representative Johns, who voted for H. L. Martin for U. S. Senator, is "a democrat by conviction a gentleman." We thought Mr. Johns was a singular kind of a democrat, but didn't know it was as bad as that.

THE Todd County Times is the latest to join our class, but it must discard that horse-bill type if it expects to stay in it. Brevier is the largest type allowed in a first-class semi-weekly. D'ye mind Bros. Penick and Oldham?

The Legislature.

The House has passed the bill reducing the fee for advertising delinquent lists from $2 to 75c.

The Senate passed the bill to allow counties having second-class cities to elect a school superintendent independently.

A bill has been introduced to raise the amount from $100 to $200 upon which an appeal can be taken to the court of appeals.

The House passed the bill reducing appellate and circuit judge salaries from $5,000 and $3,000 to $4,000 and $2,500 respectively.

Glanders is raging among the horses in Bourbon and Harrison and Gov. Bradley will send a message to the Legislature to take steps to arrest it.

A bill to brand all persons convicted of burglary when their terms in the penitentiary expire with the letter "B" on each cheek, has been presented. The House committee on revenue and taxation reported bills originating in the committee, to fund $500,000 of floating indebtedness of the State, to issue interest-bearing warrants after July 1, and to increase the State tax from 42 1/2 to 52 1/2 cents.

As a part of the many disgraceful efforts of the Hunter crowd to elect their man, it is told by the Louisville Times correspondent that a nymph du pave was paid $20 to drug a member, which she did, by giving him morphine in whiskey, but he revived in time to be present and vote against the miserable schemer.

Baird's desk mate, A. D. Thompson, stated before the investigating committee that Baird told him last winter that the Hunter people offered him, through E. T. Franks, the sum of $5,000 to answer to his name on roll call and then leave the house before his name was reached in the ballot and $7,000 if he would vote outright for Hunter.

Miss Lucy Marshall, of Centerville, Mo., began hiccoughing Christmas day and has never been able to quit it. Since then two of her sisters have been similarly affected and now all three hiccough day and night.

Gray Haddix surrendered to the sheriff of Breathitt county saying that he had killed Web Little. He claimed that he and Little had had a previous difficulty and had met by chance in the road. They decided to talk over the matter, but when Haddix turned his head Little drew a pistol and told him to make peace with his God. He then drew his weapon and fired before Little used his, killing him almost instantly.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

A bachelor maid is a splinter who lives in a city instead of a small town. A girl is bound to have a wedding of some sort. If she can't get a man, she says she is wedded to her work.

The more a woman talks about the equality of the sexes the less she likes to admit that she has to work for a living.

The main reason why short skirts will never become popular with women is that then they couldn't wear out their old shoes.

A girl with a new engagement ring reminds you of a man who always keeps his overcoat unbuttoned when he has on a dress suit.—New York Press.

Hung.

"Can't tell anything about the case yet," said the lawyer; "the jury is hung."

"Jerusalem!" shouted the prisoner. "That beats all! But I knowed my friends 'n'd lynch 'em if they got a chance at 'em."—Green Bag.

Useful.

"Do you think, professor, that the theory that Mars is inhabited has any practical value?"

"Do I think so?" returned the professor. "I know it. Some periodicals pay $20 a page for articles on the subject."—Washington Star.

Apt Description.

"If you have read Rimer's poem on 'My Lady's Pug,'" said the editor to his assistant, "you may give me your opinion of it."

"It is doggerel, sir," was the latter's reply.—New York Sunday Journal.

Delicately Put.

"And how did he die?" asked the lady who had come west to inquire after the husband she had lost. "Er—by request, ma'am," said the gentle cowboy as mildly and regretfully as possible.—Indianapolis Journal.

Her Justification.

"But why do you encourage him if you never intend to marry him?" "Merely! I wouldn't be so presumptuous as to tell him I can't marry him before he asks me."—Philadelphia North American.

On the Road.

Mrs. Homer—Is your husband off on the road today?

Mrs. Traveler—I shouldn't wonder a bit. He went out on his bicycle this morning.—Yonkers Statesman.

Forced to Do It.

"Things are looking up." "How so?" "Some fellow has invented a cash register for married men's trousers pockets."—Chicago Record.

The Question of the Hour.

"Are you the new girl?" asked Mr. Wheeler, coming down to breakfast. "Yes, sir," replied the maid.

"What make of wheel do you ride?"—Yonkers Statesman.

Storm Signal Was Out.

"What in the world are you crying about, Tommy?" "I'm not certain yet, but I know by the way papa looks there's something."—Detroit Free Press.

Not So Very Warm.

"The Joneses are cool toward the Smiths. I wonder why?" "Well, you know, the Smiths think the Joneses are not so warm."—Detroit Journal.

What Worried Her.

"What a dence of a lot we owe, Marial!" "It's not what we owe, but what we can't owe, that worries me!"—Truth.

A Costly Blow.

Bob—Howard gave $75 for that cornet. Jack—That's a good deal to blow in.—Yale Record.

End of the War.

A choir went up from many throats. The war, they said, was ended. No longer did they need the hosts. On which they had depended.

The army, too, was useless then. And promptly was disbanded. And officers joked with the men. They had for years commanded.

A coup d'etat they called the thing. That closed the Cuban struggle. It brought the end they'd failed to bring. With all they could smuggle.

They gave to Spain the loud holla. Not with their ammunition. But with the glorious coup d'etat. Designed for just that mission.

The night was dark when first they tried. This most effective caper. And humbled Weyler in his pride. By stealing all his paper.

And then, to make the thing complete. And finish this bold fighter. To make more crushing his defeat. They stole his last typewriter.

DIDN'T ADMIRE.—Mrs. Nancy Hale, of Laurel county, came here Tuesday to try Mrs. Ann Dudderar's "mad stone" on two of her children that were bitten by a supposed rabid dog last Saturday. They had lost a cow and several sheep from effects of the bite of a rabid dog running at large in the community. A three-months old puppy showed signs of being mad and bit the two children on the hand and arm. An application of the stone failed to show any signs of poison in the wounds and the mother went home much happier.

QUITE an amusing case was tried before Judge Dawson yesterday. Wm. O'Dear had B. P. Martin arrested for calling him a "hollow eyed, sanctified hypocrite" and other such playful epithets. If you haven't secured tickets for the Hustonville Minstrels to-night, do so at once. There is every reason why the young men who compose the organization should be liberally patronized and besides, a splendid performance is promised.

CRAIG ORCHARD.—Col. John Buchanan, who has been very sick, is improving. Miss Leah Steger remains very ill. Asher Harris was thought to be dying yesterday. Mrs. A. Addams (Eva Buchanan) was seriously burned a few days ago by a curling iron falling in her eye. It is not thought, however, that the sight is injured.

SWORE SHE WAS OVER 21.—Our Broadhead letter says that the father of Miss Laura Weaver, who was married here Monday to Jack Lunsford, is going to prosecute somebody because the girl is only 15 and he did not give his consent to the marriage. After he finds out that a prosecution could only result in the conviction of his own daughter, the old man will likely go slow. County Clerk J. F. Cummins says she swore that she was over 21 before he would issue the license.

JAILED FOR FORGERY.—A. M. Cottrell, whose mother, Mrs. Pulsifer, lives at Rowland, passed a check on Thomas Dalton for $10 with his mother's name to it. The bank notified Mr. Dalton that the signature wasn't genuine and Cottrell was apprehended after some difficulty by Marshal Newland. He found him at Rowland, with his two brothers, who told him not to permit himself to be arrested. Cottrell made a show of resistance, but took to his heels, when the officer closed in upon him. A foot race followed and Newland would have been distanced but for the persuasive eloquence of his pistol, which brought Cottrell to a standstill even before it was discharged. The brothers talked very insultingly to the officer, but he paid no attention and brought his man to jail. Next day the two came up, when Newland went to them and said, "You had the drop on me last night. I've got it on you now. Get out of town now at a double quick," and they went, standing not on the order of their going. Afterwards the mother wrote to the judge that she had authorized the signing of the check and Cottrell was released after two days in jail. They came here from Knox county, where it is said they were frequently in trouble.

Fighting between Greeks and Turks on the Turkish side of the Macedonia frontier is reported at Constantinople. It is believed that the Greeks have become so eager for a fight that even the annexation of Crete would not satisfy them. James Ed Bruce, one of the best farmers in the county, has about decided to raise no more corn. He is satisfied that he can buy it cheaper than he can raise it and besides, he says, it will be a big saving to his land. There are few crops that are harder on land than corn.

F. Reid has bought at a fancy price Pedro's Great Hope from the famous Linden Grove Jersey farm of T. S. Cooper, who paid $10,000 for the great Pedro 3187, 27 of whose tested daughters averaged 18 pounds of butter in seven days. Pedro's Great Hope is both son and grand-son of that noted sire and has only tested ancestry on both sides.
